

Bundaberg flood protection study

Developing a 10-year action plan for flood mitigation in Bundaberg.

The Bundaberg flood protection study is a vital component of the Queensland Government's commitment to develop a 10-year action plan for flood mitigation works in the Bundaberg region.

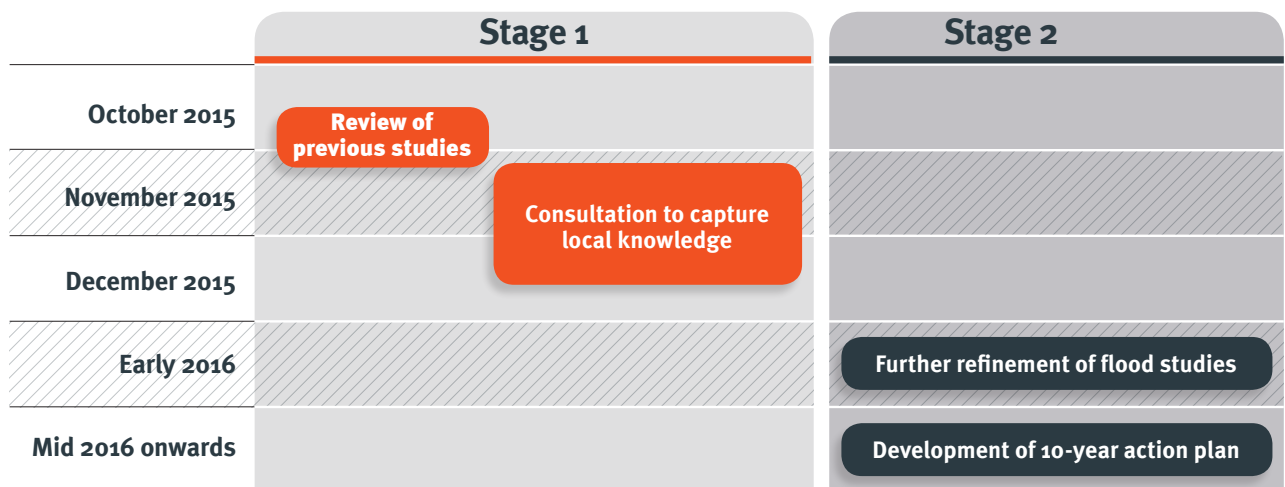

The study will build on the previous work undertaken in late 2013 by the Bundaberg Regional Council to identify flood mitigation projects.

The Queensland Government is now engaging with the community to further understand flood behaviour as it works to assess and refine these mitigation measures.

Stage 1 of the independent study is being undertaken by Jacobs and includes review of previous studies and a public consultation period to capture local knowledge about flooding and potential solutions.

This is the first phase of consultation in the development of the 10-year action plan.

Get involved

Public consultation will take place from 5–29 November 2015.

Visit www.qld.gov.au/bundabergfloodstudy to learn more about work undertaken to date.

You can get involved through the following ways.

Public information sessions

Attend one of our 'drop-in' style information sessions. No registration required—just turn up during the opening times to talk to the technical team.

Session 1

Tuesday 17 November, 3–7 pm
Bundaberg Creative Regions Pop-Up Shop
67 Perry Street, Bundaberg North

Session 2

Wednesday 18 November, 10 am–2 pm
Coronation Hall, 71 High Street, Walkervale

Written submissions

If you can't make it to one of the public information sessions, you can make a written submission.

Written submissions must include:

1. Full name
2. Organisation or group (if applicable)
3. Postal and/or email address

Written submissions can be delivered as follows:

Online: www.qld.gov.au/bundabergfloodstudy

Mail: Bundaberg flood protection study
PO Box 15009
CITY EAST QLD 4002

As part of the study, we will also be engaging with local business, industry and community organisations through a series of facilitated focus groups. If you are interested in participating, please email bundabergfloodprotection@jacobs.com.